

Free online Italian courses for university students and workers with international or special protection *Second edition

Rules for participation

Società Dante Alighieri (SDA) and the Ministry of University and Research (MUR) are pleased to announce the launch of the second edition of free online Italian language courses aimed at university students, teachers and researchers with international or special protection.

These free online courses are open to:

- students enrolled in Italian universities/conservatory/academy of fine arts
- researchers at an Italian universities/conservatory/academy of fine arts or at a research centre recognized by the MUR;
- professors and visiting professors

SDA, founded in Rome in 1889, operates around the world in over 80 countries and with a network of 400 Committees. Its aims include spreading Italian language and culture. As part of this mission, and in agreement with MUR, SDA offers free online courses on the Dante.global platform. The courses teach linguistic skills to improve academic careers and promote linguistic integration in Italy.

To access the courses, applicants must:

- be entitled to international or special protection
- be enrolled as a student or be employed at an Italian university/conservatory/academy of fine arts.

Application form

If you are interested in registering, please go to www.dante.global and complete the application form.

You will need to fill in each field of the form, declare that you are a holder of international or special protection and that you are enrolled or working at an Italian university <sup>1</sup> and attach your residence permit or Italian identity card-

IMPORTANT: always use the same e-mail address for the application, registration on the platform and all related communications.

After submitting your application form, within a few days you will receive an email from progetti@dante.global containing all the info about:

1. the analysis of needs and linguistic placement test in Italian (reading and writing);
2. the Zoom interview with one of our teachers, in order to meet you and complete the linguistic placement in Italian.

IMPORTANT: applicants have until 31 March 2025 to complete registration, and the free online courses start from May 2025.

By 31 March 2025, you must:

- 1) complete the linguistic placement test in Italian (reading and writing);
- 2) book the Zoom interview with one of our teachers.

Based on your needs and your skills in the Italian language, courses will be offered according to the CEFR levels A1, A2, B1, B2.

The start date of your course will be communicated to you via email, together with the methods of accessing the Dante.global platform.

Please note that every course:

<sup>1</sup> All documentation acquired will be treated according to the relevant current legislation and in compliance with the privacy policy of SDA. Upon completion of each applicant's registration and identification, SDA will delete and not retain any identity documents received.

- includes 20 hours of lessons per week (10 hours in synchronous e-learning in the presence of the teacher and 10 hours in asynchronous self-learning) with tutoring and IT support
- includes an Italian language e-book

Courses will end in November 2025 with the PLIDA Italian language certification exam, recognized throughout the world. The certification exam is allowed only with at least 70% of attendance.

IMPORTANT: SDA provides free of charge the relevant free online courses, teaching materials and PLIDA certification.

In order to be able to attend the courses, you need to be equipped with a device that allows adequate use of the Dante.global digital educational environment and you need an Internet connection with adequate speed for the services offered.
